ONE LANGUAGE FOR AMERICA.

It is rather a pity that we cannot have Tom Marshall presently as Vice President of these United States of America so that we might always feel secure in the knowledge that if anything should happen to the chief officer of the republic we could know that the man would fall upon the shoulders of one whose Americanism, the same as his democracy, is pure gold.

Any one who has ever found him in a strange country where the manners and customs of the people were different from those of his native land, and the language of which he could not speak, can fully grasp what Mr. Marshall has in mind when he contends that we should have no gloss in this country for any except those who will learn, if they do not already know it, to speak the language of America.

We have wonderful boys, clinging to their native tongues and making little effort to master that of the people among whom they come to cast their lot. The citizens we acquire by naturalization can be expected ever to get themselves in harmony with America. Mr. Marshall contends that they do not, and we are inclined to agree that, rather than casting their lots with us, those who do not think enough of their adopted country to converse with it in its own language, come only in search of their own fortunes. We have the right, in opening our gates to the pilgrims from other lands seeking citizenship with us, to expect them to put something into America as well as take something out. We do not need their ideas of democracy to guide us on to correct what they may conceive to be flaws in our system, but we do need their wholehearted citizenship, and their undivided loyalty if they assume to become one with us and share with us our institutions and our opportunities. We should make it a condition of their naturalization that they speak English. Failing in this, as Mr. Marshall contends, there should be invited to quit our country.

In the letters he is writing and in the speeches he is making, Thomas W. Marshall is shining like a beacon light, which if we follow in the way it reveals the nation will not go astray.—Columbia Record.

FIELD OFFICERS DROP.

Drastic Reduction to Regular Grades.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Drastic reduction of permanent officers from their temporary ranks to regular army grades, effective March 15, has been ordered by General March, chief of staff. Of approximately 2,000 officers now holding temporary rank higher than their permanent appointments, about 2,000 probably will be returned to their regular status.

Field officers only will be affected. The number of officers holding general rank is not within the allowance, and there will be cut in the grades of those below the rank of major.

The bulk of demotions is expected to come from the bureau in Washington, as there are but few surplus officers of temporary rank on duty with troops.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dunn are both ill at their home on Saluda street with influenza.

Mr. Robert McFarlin, salesman for the J. L. White Grocery Store, is ill at his home on Chester Road.

For Chastel Mortgage, call at The News office.

Mr. T. L. Eberhardt has gone to Portnevo to spend several days.

Mr. Robt. H. Clewley of the local postoffice force is indisposed at his home on Hemphill Avenue with influenza.

Mr. Joe Anderson who has been with the Peoples National Bank for several years, has left the bank in the heavy and fancy grocery business of Geo. W. Byars & Co., and will become actively connected with them the first of April.

The Emerson Trustees have arrived and will be demonstrated by playing Wednesday and Thursday near the Southern depot, Transfer tree. No admission but don't forget the hour, 11 o'clock. S. D. Brown.

Call and see the new spring clothes they are showing at The S. St. John Co.

BABY, BUNNY AND PROPHYLACTIC PUP.

The antislip baby and the prophylactic pup. Wave playing in the garden when the bunny gambled up. They looked upon the creature with loathing undisguised.

For he wasn't distinguished and he wasn't sterilized. They said he was a microbe and a host of disease; They steamed him in a vapor of a thousand-ford degrees;

They washed him with permanganate and carbolic soap; With superheated hydrogen they bathed his wiggy ears; They trimmed his frisky whiskers with a pair of hard boiled shears;

Then they donned their rubber mittens and they took him by the hand. And elected him a member of the fumigated band. Now there's not a microbe in the garden where they play. And they bathe in pure lodoform a dozen times a day.

DAIRY MEN TO MEET.

State Association Convenes in Columbia Wednesday.

Clemson College, Feb. 29.—The annual meeting of the South Carolina Dairy association, will be held in Columbia, March 3, at the Jefferson Hotel. This is a joint meeting with the State Livestock association, which will have a program at the same place March 4. The following program, which should prove to be of value to every one interested in the dairy, cow or her products, is announced by R. M. Cooper, Jr., vice president, and J. P. LaMarter, secretary.

Nichols Rydell of the dairy division, United States department of agriculture, will discuss the present status of the dairy industry. Mr. Rydell is a great force in the present development of dairying in the United States and will furnish valuable information as to the prospects for dairy farmers and breeders in South Carolina.

R. C. Reed, dean of animal husbandry, department, Maryland State college, will discuss contagious abortion and tuberculosis in cattle. Dr. Reed is a noted veterinarian and authority of disease of cattle.

A part of the program will be taken up by a general round table discussion of dairy problems. In this discussion there will be brought out the best methods of raising the successful dairy farmers in the state.

Some plan of holding a sale of dairy cattle under the auspices of the association at the next annual meeting or some time during the year will be perfected. This is the second annual meeting of the dairy association. The association represents the dairy industry of the state and every one interested in producing milk or butter, raising cattle, or manufacturing dairy products should attend this meeting.

Mrs. Louise Peay was able to return to her duties at H. H. Hough's Jewelry Store Saturday after having been out for several days with a case of influenza.

Mrs. Mary Black, linotype operator for The Chester Reporter, is ill at her home on Clinton street with influenza.

Mrs. N. J. Cooper was operated upon at the Pryor Hospital this morning.

Musical Comedy Saturday Night.

The musical comedy "The Love Doctor" which is to be shown at the Chester Opera House Saturday night, March 2d, comes to Chester highly recommended. The following article with reference to the play is taken from a Charleston, S. C., newspaper, this show recently having been played at the Academy of Music in that city.

"Goodness, gracious and some other expletives, what a positive relief it is to unexpectedly bump into a real live musical comedy that isn't seventy-five per cent. of suggestion, twenty-five per cent. farce and one hundred per cent. sense. Such a play can be classed as outer coverings. And some that have played in Charleston this season did not miss the percentages very far, yet they were clamorously and almost voraciously received. It actually seems—but what is the use of looking for the water that has passed the mill. It's again turn a wheel at that particular spot."

"Last night at the Academy of Music, there were presented a delightful little musical, more definitely and correctly speaking a musical comedy that fairly scintillated with clever wit and humor, a plot that actually clung together all the way through and an assemblage of catchy songs which were refreshing to a degree. The piece evoked the rather distinctive name 'The Love Doctor,' around which revolves the story of an ambitious father to see his daughter in the social swim. Catering to the popular idea of fads the doting father falls an easy victim to a hoax practiced by his son, and from that moment on the fun runs delightfully riot for a matter of a shade over two hours."

"While everybody in the piece has more or less to do, and what they do is creditably done, the chief action centers about a 'victim of circumstance,' one Joe Dook, portrayed by William Wyse, and 'Proctor Knott,' a retired soap manufacturer with H. C. Overton impersonating. Both are remarkably clever, but the greater honors fall to the so-called 'Love Doctor.' Mr. Wyse is a comedian of the best and brighter sort and not once throughout the performance is he dull or uninteresting. During the presentation of the comedy fourteen musical numbers are given, nearly all a shade above the average, but those assayed by Miss Conover were particularly sweet and charming. Her rendition of the deep, rich 'sugar,' of the 'Heart of a Rose' was a genuine delight. Miss Nurse also gave a number, 'Jerry,' with fine effect."

Collectively 'The Love Doctor' is a very clever musical comedy immensely enjoyed by an audience that filled the Academy."

"The Love Doctor" a musical comedy which comes to the Chester Opera House Saturday night, March 2d, is of the better class musical comedies and is playing all of the large cities in this section. The show is scheduled for the Liberty Theatre in Columbia next Monday night, going to Columbia from Chester."

CONTRACTS FOR GRADING.

Improvement of the Roads in Union Progressing Rapidly.

Union, Feb. 28.—Contractors who were recently awarded contracts for grading and toppling different highways in this county are this week beginning work and with push the projects to completion.

On the Jonesville road, beginning at the old McKellick place, and going to the township line, a distance of about one mile, S. H. Martin, local contractor, will have eight or ten teams on the job this week, while on the Sards road, B. H. Martin, of Sards, has his equipment shipped and is expected will begin grading on the 4.77 miles of highway to be improved in that direction.

The Bogansville section of the Cross Keys Highway has now been topsoiled and greatly improved from the Union Township line to beyond Mr. S. H. Winburn's store. This work is being done by the Bogansville Township Highway Commission, but owing to the large amount of work that the commission already had on hand in the making up of estimates it may be some time yet before plans are in shape for the road work to be pushed.

Work is being pushed on grading and toppling the road from Jonesville to the Sparta-Township line, under direction of Highway Engineer, H. L. Kennedy, and last week the road from Jonesville to the Union Township line was scraped and put into good condition.

Within the next few days the Greenville Twp. Company, which was recently awarded the contract for the widening of one mile of gravel sidewalk in Otisway and Monarch Mill villages, will commence work.

Stinson, deceased, including a Half Interest in the Pool room and effects, two pool tables and household and kitchen furniture, etc., and to be sold at No. 101, Peace Street, Chester, S. New Officers Will Be Elected.

At a meeting of POST 1, I. O. O. F. held soon, new officers will be elected. At the same time delegates to the State T. P. A. Convention, which will be held in Greenwood in May, will be elected. Post 1 will also elect a candidate to stand for election for the National T. P. A. Convention. Each Post selects a candidate for the National Convention and the delegate is elected at the State Convention.

Post 1 needs about twenty-five new members, let's all get together and pull for that many. Let's see how many we can get before the State Convention in May.

The National Convention will meet this year in Portland, Oregon, in June, and will be the same dates as the Portland Rose Festival. No expense is going to be spared to make this the biggest T. P. A. Convention ever held. The Oregon Division is making large plans and advertising all over the United States. They plan to have each of the forty States represented by floats, depicting the manufacturing of their respective States. The entire membership of this organization is over 80,000 and the visiting delegates will march according to States, with their floats.

Another feature will be the fifty mile drive over the Columbia River Highway, the finest thing of the kind in the world, to Eagle Creek camping ground, to a great fish dinner. The camping ground is wonderfully well adapted to take care of thousands of people and all necessities in the way of equipment to make the affair a success. "The West will open your eyes." A great organization is going to meet in one of the greatest cities of this great country at the season of the year that thrills all with life and enthusiasm. All who can go will be wonderfully repaid by doing so. Yours "for the good of the Order"

Committee J. R. Carson

Bad Death Of Young Man

Many warm friends buried their hearts in a humble submission yesterday afternoon when it became known that Mr. Johnie W. Cousar was passed away at the Chester Sanatorium, in this city, after an illness of several weeks, during which time he had undergone several operations with the hope of saving his life. No attention was denied the young man by physicians, surgeons and loving friends but an all-wise Father had decreed that this young man should come to him and yesterday afternoon he went away.

Mr. Cousar was thirty-one years of age; a young man in the prime of life, a congenial young fellow and one who numbered his friends by the hundreds throughout the entire county. He was a member of the Bethel M. E. church and was one of Chester's most promising young men. He was a member of the Masonic order and only recently became a member of the Shrine taking his degrees along with a number of other young men in Greenville.

Mr. Cousar is survived by two brothers and one sister: Messrs. Thos. A. Cousar and Richard E. Cousar, of Chester, and Mrs. G. C. Baber, of Spartanburg, also his step-mother, Mrs. Johnie W. Cousar, of Chester.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at three-thirty o'clock from the home of Mrs. E. L. Hill, on Thorpe street, the service being conducted by Rev. Kilgo, pastor of Bethel M. E. church, after which the interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery. The Chester commandery No. 1, Knights Templar will have charge of the funeral.

Under the auspices of the Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Stanley L. Krebs spoke on the general subject of "Business—Getting and Business Building" at the Chester Opera House last night. A small but appreciative audience was present to hear the address. Dr. Krebs is also scheduled to speak tonight and tomorrow night.

BADGER URGES CONGRESS TO CONSTRUCT LARGEST NAVY IN THE WORLD

Washington, March 1.—Construction of new naval warships in line with a policy of giving the United States "the largest navy in the world," was urged on congress Monday by Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger and other members of the general board of the navy, appearing before the house naval committee.

Admiral Badger urged that the next annual naval appropriation bill carry a new building program, authorizing the building of two dreadnaughts, one battleship, ten scout cruisers, four destroyers and six submarines and other small craft. He did not estimate the cost of this program or say how long it would take to complete the vessel.

Capital ships, such as the dreadnaughts and battleships, he said, would remain the "backbone" of the navy, with the tendency in building constantly being not only for their enlargement, but also providing greater size for the smaller type.

Mrs. L. E. Brown was called to Salisbury, N. C., Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mr. Brown's nephew.

The Mary Adair Chapter D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. J. J. Stringfellow at her home on York street tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock.

Mrs. R. D. Smyer and son, Mr. Sumpter Smyer, are both ill with influenza at their home on College street.

The Secretary of State, W. Banks Dove has issued a commission to the Chester Wholesale Grocery Company with a capital stock of $25,000.

A number of people are taking advantage of the presence of Mr. J. P. Hunter, deputy collector, who is at the Chester postoffice, and making their income tax returns. Those who wish the assistance of Mr. Hunter are requested to call on him.

CONDITIONS EASILY FORESEEN.

A few days ago a prominent banker in a letter to the Manufacturers Record discussing the necessity of action by the Federal Reserve Board to force "Liberty bonds out of the banks, referred to the phenomenal prosperity of the country since shortly after the signing of the armistice. In the course of his letter he said that no one could possibly have foreseen the conditions which have existed since the close of the war; one being the temporary depression immediately following the armistice and the other the wonderful outburst of activity which has continued since then.

This letter only shows how little some people are able to foresee what to the average man ought to be as clear as the noon-day sun. Judged by the history of all wars and the conditions following, there was no reason to expect anything but a temporary lull for a month or two after the ending of the war, and then a period of tremendous activity and of steadily rising prices.

For a year or more before the armistice, the Manufacturers Record pointed out that prices would inevitably be higher after the close of the war, and that there would be great activity in construction work of all kinds. The reasons were given over and over again, so that those who were at all skeptical might see that was inevitable. No particular judgment was needed to be able to foresee this situation.

Inflation in this country and a broad market, inevitably mean higher prices for everything, and a great stimulation of business. Decreased food supply as compared with the world's needs, even without inflation, would have guaranteed high prices for all foodstuffs. The enormous vacuum in building operations, the world scarcity of fueling and other buildings showed beyond the possibility of doubt that the moment men could get to work on a scale basis, rather than a war basis, there would be great expansion of construction work.

The proof was so overwhelming that business would be exactly as they have been during the last two years that we marvel that any well-informed man could for a moment think that anything which has taken place could not have been foreseen. Certainly we believe no one could have thoughtfully read the Manufacturers Record without seeing that the facts given in substantiation of the predictions made were unanswerable. Manufacturer's Record.

SAYS MERITONE WORTH $1,000

Helped Steamboat Man After All Other Medicine Had Failed Him.

"I have suffered from stomach trouble, weakness and dizziness for years and years, but today I'm practically a well man. Meritone is what brought about the change," said Neal White, popular steamboat man of Paducah, Ky.

"I think I tried every kind of medicine I could find. My stomach was all out of order and finally I also got so that I'd be weak and dizzy a great deal. I finally got out all the time and hated to go to work."

"A friend of mine told me about how Meritone had helped him and I got a bottle to try myself."

"Since taking that bottle I tell you I feel like a new man. I can eat anything I want without a bit of trouble and the former tired-out feeling is all gone."

"It's the truth that I wouldn't take $1,000 for what Meritone has done for me. Meritone has proved to be the best medicine I ever took and I want to recommend it to others."

Meritone the tonic of real merit, is sold exclusively in Chester by The White's Pharmacy and The Valley Drug Store.

VIGOROUS ACTION TO BLOCK CHANGES

Republican Inreconcilables Try to Stop Modification. What This Group Would Do to Wreck Peace of Party Leaders Not Known.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Republican senators, irreconcilably opposed to the peace treaty took vigorous measures today to block any modification of the Article 10 reservation which was adopted last November and which has since been the chief barrier to all compromise negotiations.

Feeling that the Republican leaders, unable to obtain enough votes to ratify the treaty with the reservation unchanged, might consent to some modification, the irreconcilables served notice through Senator Barn, Republican, of Idaho that unless the provision was kept as it stands they would reserve liberty of action when consideration of the treaty is resumed tomorrow.

The new ultimatum, similar in nature to one laid down by the irreconcilables during the bipartisan compromise negotiations, was presented directly to the party leader, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who is expected to confer with his colleagues on the subject tomorrow. "The vote of the irreconcilables have been counted on to insure a majority for the Republican reservation program, as was the case in November, and the move today is expected to receive consideration."

Just what the irreconcilables might do to wreck the plans of the Republican leaders was not revealed. It was suggested in some quarters, however, that if they chose to do so the irreconcilable group might easily debate the treaty at such length that action could be blocked until the assembling of the "national" conventions. That result, in the opinion of many senators, would preclude any possibility of ratification until the next session and been fought out in the campaign.

When the senate takes up the treaty again tomorrow it will have before it the question of ratification of the peace treaty with the settlement of domestic questions under the league of nations. By the unanimous consent agreement reached Saturday a vote this morning is to be taken at 2 p. m. and unless the plans of the leaders miscarry it will be adopted in the same form as at the last session of congress.

Many senators predicted tonight that if no actual filibuster developed the entire list of reservations would be disposed of and a vote taken on the treaty itself within the next ten days.

THE NEW Secretary of Agriculture M. MEREDITH

Appears to have a proper conception of the relations of the banker to the farmer, as developed in a contribution to the paper issued by the American Bankers' Association. Mr. Meredith makes acknowledgment of the fact that "the foresight and sympathetic interest of the bankers have played an important part in the advancement of agriculture in this country, and they are in position to render even more helpful co-operation in the future."

He maintains that "so long as the farmer must contend in his business with the elements of chance he must be supported by the confidence that back of him is his banker, ready and willing to come to his aid in times of drought, flood, storm, insect visitation and other misfortune."

If Secretary Meredith is familiar with the policy of this bank, he knows that it stands ready to give him its co-operation and assistance to the fulfillment of his expectations. As the record will show, it has been carrying out for many years past the exact policy he is outlining.

PROPOSES TAX ON MATCHES

As Means of Raising Revenue for Public Improvement.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A tax of one cent on every hundred matches, to be paid by the purchaser, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Adamson, Republican, New Jersey, as a means of raising revenue for the bonus-for-soldiers movement. Discussing the measure, Adamson declared that the burden of the tax would fall upon smokers and brewers.
